

SUNDAY, JUNE 10, 2012 – AMERICAN MUSIC THEATRE
"COUNTRY CLASSICS"

10:00 AM - leave Carroll Plaza, Westminster

11:30-12:15

- Haines Shoe House (Hallam, PA) – Take a personal tour of the Shoe House which was built in 1948 by "Colonel" Mahlon N. Haines, who was known as the Shoe Wizard of York. View the interesting rooms on five different levels which contain three bedrooms, two baths, a kitchen and living room. The building, modeled after a high-topped work shoe, was originally used as a guest house in addition to being a giant structural advertisement. The shoe motif is everywhere--from the design of the stained glass windows to the shoe-shaped dog house and the decoration on the wooden fence that surrounds the property.

12:45-2:15

- Family-style lunch at Plain & Fancy Farm Restaurant

3:00-5:15

- American Music Theatre "Country Classics" – Polish your boots and straighten your Stetson – AMT is goin' country – classic country, that is! It's our all-out tribute to country music's very best as the AMT Cast and Band strike country gold with your all-time favorites and some modern day classics. We're tappin' our country roots for the signature sounds of folks like Loretta, Kenny, Dolly, and Willie, and mixing in a few of today's soon-to-be classic hits as well. Come experience the joy of pure country music with the all-new Country Classics!
